Dolet's Dick.

To the Editor of THE PROGRESS. Sir—I am extremely sorry that my innocent letter re "Spring Poetry" should have been the cause of Dolet's Dick's disaster, and I trust that he is now more laughing with the rest and resumed the even tenor of his way.

I am not anxious at present to lose any more, and if he still thirsts should advise him to quench it in something more suitable; should he, however, at any time feel inclined to mete out punishment, which he says I richly deserve, I shall be most happy for him to call around when I am not at home and he can then wreak his vengeance on my household gods and kill the cat. Had Dolet's Dick been a student of poetry he would have known that Byron says:

"This record will forever stand, Woman, thy vows are traced in sand!" and acted accordingly.

REDISTRIBUTION.

It is to be hoped that the report regarding the redistribution of the electoral districts in Eastern Assiniboia is true. Every part of a constituency should be equally represented, but such is not the case in Eastern Assiniboia as it now stands. The population in the district is not equally divided, and consequently the most densely populated portion must have the preponderance, the eastern portion of the district being able to outvote the western and therefore carry their man at a convention, and it appears to us that this choice is more a matter of locality than capability. We think, therefore, that it will be a good thing for Qu'Appelle and Indian Head should the proposed redistribution take place. We would be more likely to have better representation, knowing that Mr. Davin is a worker and one who looks after the interests of all parts of his constituencies alike.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Mr. John Wilson found Dead in Bed—J. R. Brown's Sudden Surprise.

Mr. J. R. Brown, having occasion to call on Mr. J. Wilson, who lived just south of McLean Station, did so on Thursday morning and found the old gentleman dead in bed. Up to the time of our going to press we have not heard the full particulars. Mr. Wilson was the father of Mrs. J. R. Brown.

The Colonist.

The April number of the Colonist is out, and it is a fine issue, handsomely illustrated with eight full pages of finely executed engravings. The illustrations are mostly of Winnipeg scenes, showing the principal buildings and a number of street views. One page of Lake of the Woods illustrations is given and also a page of Selkirk views. In addition to editorial and miscellaneous matter, the number also contains several special articles. The April number of the Colonist is the first issue since Mr. Alex. Smith assumed the management of the paper, and it is evident that he has infused new life into the enterprise. The journal may now be expected to do better work than ever before in the interest of immigration and the development of Manitoba and Western Canada.

THE SUPREME COURT.

The Case of the Queen vs. Boyd dismissed—School Case Remanded.

Before His Honor Judge Richardson.

Mr. Secord, Q.C., Crown Prosecutor, prosecuted; T. C. Johnston defended; R. Kimmier appeared for private prosecution.

Queen vs. John Boyd—The defendant was charged with obtaining money by false pretences from the Northwest Government.

J. R. Neff, M.L.A., being sworn, said: I have been a member of the Northwest Assembly since 1888, and a member of the executive.

An appropriation of $200,000 was made by the Dominion Government for distribution by the N.W. Government. Seventy or eighty thousand was voted for the electoral districts by the Legislative Assembly. At that time there were twenty-six districts, and each district got the same. There were regulations formed covering expenditure by the members. Regulations were made known to members. Would not swear to the day and date these regulations were made known to Mr. Sutherland, the member for North Qu'Appelle, but was quite certain every member knew of them.

Mr. Johnston submitted that this document should be put in evidence, which was done, and Mr. Neff's further evidence bore on the document produced.

J. C. Pope, to Mr. Secord: Am accountant to N.W. Government; was acting accountant in 1893. Documents produced have passed through my hands. The cheque is in the handwriting of C. M. Clark, a clerk in the employ of N.W. Government. Have a record of mailing cheque. (Produce cheque receipt book and mailing book of registered letters.) Could not say of his own knowledge that those cheques were sent, but it was Brown's duty to do so.

J. A. Whitmore, to Mr. Secord: Have been post master at Regina since 1889. The name in mailing book is mine acknowledging receipt of letter to Alex. Boyd, from the assistant accountant's department of the Northwest Government. Letter was forwarded to Qu'Appelle same day as received.

Cross-examined by Mr. Johnston: The records are in the handwriting of my assistant. All I know is that I got a letter to forward to Qu'Appelle. Have no knowledge of its contents; have no personal knowledge as to its dispatch.

F. S. Proctor, to Mr. Secord: Am post master at Fort Qu'Appelle, was so in 1893. (Produce post office record.) Registered letter addressed to Alex. Boyd was received on 28th and delivered to W. Sutherland by E. C. Campbell, clerk. Recognized the signature in book as Mr. Sutherland's, M.L.A. for North Qu'Appelle.

W. Sutherland, to Mr. Secord: Have been M.L.A. for North Qu'Appelle for seven or eight years. Recognize signature in book. Was authorized by Mr. Boyd to get his mail. Have no knowledge of the contents of this particular letter. Could not say as to whether or not he delivered said letter to Mr. Boyd or his brother. Signature on recommendation of payment of account was his. Recognized Alex. Boyd's signature. The work referred to in the recommendation is the work specified in contract. Did not know whether or not the work was done; recommended payment on completion of form; at some other place where Devitt and Shore were doing some work the document was signed by them; may have been signed by them in blank; might have filled in the amount before or after signature; have given quite a number of recommendations; have advised with Mr. John Boyd, his general foreman, as to the amount the contract would be worth; do not know as to whether or not Mr. Alex. Boyd got the money.

Cross-examined by Mr. Johnston: Was in latter part of June contract was signed by Mr. Boyd; did not remember whether it was before or after Boyd had signed that the contracts were filled in; quite probable that it may have been signed in blank; did have similar contracts signed in blank was anxious to get this cheque in before the work was done in order to keep the money from lapsing. Contract was never in Mr. Boyd's possession after being signed; was signed by Devitt and Shore at the same time, the sent of the trap being turned upside down to write on. Mr. Boyd did not know when I sent it to Regina. There was no intention to defraud the N.W. Government. Alex. Boyd is one of my constituents; have known him for a number of years; it was certainly intended that the work should be done; have no doubt that Mr. Boyd was perfectly innocent of any intention to rob the government.

After Messrs. Devitt and Shore had given evidence as to their signature, Mr. Johnston submitted that there was no case.

Mr. Secord submitted that the evidence shows conclusively that Mr. Boyd obtained $63 from the government, and that he never did any work for it; and it is proved by the production of the cheque that he had got a cheque for that amount, which he used by endorsing it. There are two counts on which the prisoner is charged; the evidence is sufficient to show that he received a cheque for that amount; a receipt has been put in by Boyd himself acknowledging the receipt of cheque; he knew at that time the work was not done; he still kept the cheque and used it; he submitted that they had traced to him the cheque for $63. The false pretence consisted in the fact of getting this cheque, retaining it and signing receipt for work. There is the evidence of Sutherland to this effect; that Boyd knew it was to be forwarded to Sutherland knowing that the work was not done and could not be completed in a day.

His Honor dismissed the case. There was another case against John Boyd which was also dismissed.

Several cases against Alex. Boyd, in which the evidence was entirely the same, were not proceeded with.

Mount Pleasant School District vs. Municipality of South Qu'Appelle.—This case, which was entirely documentary, was remanded to Regina to be heard in chambers.

Mr. Secord for plaintiff; Mr. Johnston for defendants.

Lorlie Lippings.

Our caplist who was in negotiation with the trustees of Lorlie Public School district re the purchase of their debentures, has withdrawn, owing to a difficulty arising from a collision with Pheasant Forks that may prove quite serious and illegal. The trustees are having quite a time over the selection of a building site. Instead of taking the centre of the district as the ordinance directs, they have chosen a site each, and stand thereon crowing like three fighting cocks. No. 1 standing with his head down, as much as to say, my mind is made up here to remain. No. 2, with head erect, advocates his claim and then rests on his oars, while No. 3, an unselfish young bird, keeps hopping about, crowing dexterously to have one of the two come to him; he even tempted them so far as to take a sprightly leap to the centre, claiming a vote of the rate-payers on the same, but the elder birds being possessed of good staying powers, remained as they were unmoved.

Poplar Plains Paragraphs.

Poplar Plains and surrounding district are in full tune at hearing there is to be a creamery erected this season near Mr. Lask's, at the large springs on the Muscowpetung reserve.

Hurrah for the man that has the large tepee of wood! He won't have time to milk his cow three times a day—he will have more.

Prairie fires drive away rain, they say. Is it fair that Indians should be allowed to start fires and burn what little the prairies does produce, when hay is scarce and times hard? There should be a fire guard along the south of the reserve.

BLOWN TO PIECES.

Hotel and Store in New Orleans Blown Up by an Explosion.

A terrible explosion took place at the corner of Decatur and Ursuline streets, New Orleans at an early hour the other morning, by which the ship chandlery store of Charles J. Salathe and the adjoining saloon and fishermen's exchange conducted by Charles Salathe, was completely destroyed. Fire broke out immediately following the explosion, which occurred in the ship chandlery's store, in which a quantity of powder and shot was always kept. The front and side walls of the two buildings were entirely blown up, but the rear portions were left standing, showing that the explosion occurred in the front part of the building. The number of dead is not known, but at least a dozen were sleeping in the building at the time, who all were buried beneath the debris and it is learned have been either crushed to death or will be rescued to a char before the firemen can rescue them. At the hour of the explosion the street in front was beginning to fill up with market people. A number of wagons were on Decatur street, and on the sidewalk, and in the markets small knots of men were getting out goods or trading for daily supplies. The trade was cut short by a muffled sound which came from across the street and all instinctively turned expecting an explosion. The walls were lifted and came down with a crash on all sides. The force of the explosion was terrible. Drivers were hurled from their vehicles and wares on the market stands were blown to the four winds. The explosion, as near as the market people could judge, occurred at five minutes after two and was at Salathe's barroom and hotel, a two-story building two doors from the corner. Salathe, his wife and two children are killed. Their bedroom was directly over the powder, and has not been seen since. One of his children emerged from the ruins in night clothes after the engines had been at work on the fire for about five minutes, to the surprise of everybody. Twelve people are known to be buried under the ruins of the two buildings that collapsed in the explosion caused by the powder stored in the grocery which was blown to pieces. The French market was just being opened and the men who sell fish and other food were unloading their wagons. Some of them had gone into the saloon to drink, and the barkeeper, Felix Bego, and five or six others who were drinking there, are under the ruins.

A REVOLT OF FORESTERS.

20,000 Members in the States to Withdraw From the Canadian Alliance.

A Duluth dispatch says: There is a big revolt in this country among the fraternal and benevolent societies known as the Independent Order of Foresters. It is a British order, with headquarters in Canada, and has in England, Canada and the United States a membership of 71,000, one third of which is in this country, mostly men who formerly lived in Canada. The members in the United States have for some time been dissatisfied with the way the supreme court has been running things.

This country contributes over $600,000 a year, and all of this money goes into Canada. No American is allowed to hold a salaried office of the higher order, and the supreme court did not even place money on deposit in this country. There are other things that have long been obnoxious to many of the Americans, and so last September, in a quiet way they began organizing a revolt outside the lodge rooms, and their efforts are being crowned with success. The new society is to be known as the United Order of Foresters of America, and it will differ very little from the parent organization.

In Illinois alone there are now 1,000 charter members. Of the 140 members of the old society in Duluth, 120 have signed the new charter. Duluth, during the last year paid over $2,500, yet in four years it has received only $2,000 in benefits.

AN ARISTOCRATIC EDITOR.

One of the Nobility Doing Newspaper Work on an Ontario Weekly.

By the death of Rowland Clegg Hill, Third Viscount Hill, which occurred in England recently, his son, Hon. Rowland Richard Clegg Hill, late editor and proprietor of the Star-Transcript of Paris, Ont., becomes heir to the title and estates. The present viscount is still living at that place. He is thirty-two years old and is married to a clever writer of Irish birth. He will shortly leave to take possession of his English baronial mansion.

TWO FRESH WITH THEIR GUNS.

A British Steamer Fired Upon by a Spanish Gunboat.

The New York Herald correspondent at Kingston, Jamaica, says that the British steamer Ethelred, while on her way from Boston, to Port Antonio, Jamaica, when off Cape Maysi, was fired upon by a Spanish gunboat. The Ethelred stopped and was boarded and examined by the officers of the gunboat, after which she proceeded on her voyage.

CUBA WILL BE FREE.

A Mass Meeting of Cubans and Their Sympathizers is Held.

The spirit of war rose high the other night at a big Cuban mass meeting held at Jacksonville, Florida, on behalf of the Cuban cause. The meeting has held in the Metropolitan Light Infantry Armory. Cubans from far and wide were there. On the stage were a number of prominent citizens of Jacksonville, while in the body of the audience were many ladies. John G. Christopher, one of the best known business men of Florida presided. He said that they met in the cause of freedom. He introduced Gonzalo de Quesada, secretary of the Cuban Revolutionary Society, of New York. Quesada lifted the audience into a state of enthusiasm. I do not come here to rehearse the failure of the revolution of 1895," he said, "I come to say to men that revolutionists are in Cuba to-day with rifles in their hands. A new revolution has begun which must either end in freedom for the island or the belligerents and their children must go to the scaffold. Do you think the crown would send an army over to overcome 150 bands, which is declared to be all that is at the bottom of the disturbance? If this struggle fails it will be the fault of Americans, for why did you teach us the lesson of liberty? If we do not succeed yours will be a great crime in not giving us succor. Americans will not fail us. From every hand comes aid. Dollars are pouring in, and with these dollars rifles and bullets have been bought. American public opinion is saying: "Let the Cubans in their fight have fair play; we hold the stakes." The speaker paused here for a moment and then said impressively, "Ladies and gentlemen, I thank you for this reception. It may be the last time I shall see you. The fortunes of my country may take me to the field. My death I may meet there, but I shall take to my country messages of encouragement and love from our friends in America."

Private advices to a prominent Cuban of Key West, per steamer Olivette, state that the Cuban insurgents, numbering 1,200, under General Maceo recently met a Spanish convoy of mule teams with provisions and ammunition for the Spanish forces. After a short fight the escort, numbering 500 soldiers, surrendered to General Maceo. The fight took place at Holquin, near Santiago. The convoy consisted of sixty-nine teams, chiefly laden with provisions. The Cubans are elated over the news.

It is definitely known in Havana that over 4,000 fully armed rebels are in the field. The rebel general Guillermo, who was announced to be dead by the Spanish authorities, is alive, but is extremely sick. He is safely hidden in the western part of the island. The insurgents following the leadership of Maceo, Rabi, Miro, Sartorio and Manana, are dashing about in detached bands, pursuing a guerilla warfare that is extremely exasperating to the Spanish troops, who go in vain pursuit of them.

THERE'S MILLIONS IN IT.

A Gigantic Scheme—A New Telephone Company to be Formed.

According to the reports a telephone company has been formed in New York with a war chest of tremendous extent and backed by men at the mention of whose name visions of vast wealth arise. The capital stock is given at $160,000,000. The backers are: The Parrott company of New York, the Standard Oil company, Seales of the Sugar trust, George Crocker the San Francisco millionaire, Pillsbury, the Minneapolis flour man, and J. S. Clarkson. About a week ago whispers of a big rival of the Bell company were heard in San Francisco; they were echoed in Wall street and now they swell into a pretty authentic assurance that such a stupendous enterprise has been planned and inaugurated as will stir up the commercial world to an extent seldom experienced. It has leaked out that arrangements have practically been completed for operations in Illinois, in the New England States, in Kansas, in Iowa and in the Northwestern and Northwestern states generally. This territory includes a part of the Bell company's stronghold, the apparent object of the new born competitor being to parallel the Bell lines everywhere, cut rates and fight them out of the market. The patent to be used is one of the secrets of the scheme jealously guarded. From an inspired source it has been hinted, however, that a phase of the fight that will be particularly galling to the Bell concern is this, that the Bell patents with patents of recent inventors, are the very ones to be utilized by the new company.

The Chicago Times-Herald reiterates that the big new telephone enterprise in opposition to Bell is being organized by the Sugar trust, the Standard Oil company, the Crocker interests of the Calif, and Pullman company. The company proposes to put in telephones all over the country at a uniform price of $25 a year. The company proposes to operate in Illinois, Iowa and Wisconsin, styled the Northwestern telephone company, capital at $6,000,000. Nine local companies have already been formed east of the Mississippi, and ten more companies are in progress of organization to cover the remainder of the territory in the United States and British provinces and Mexico.

A YOUNG LAD AND HIS FAITHFUL FRIEND.

Ernest McGregor, of Whitley, Ont., Gives an Account of His Experience—Cured of Persistent Dyspepsia by B. B. B.—Worst Kind of Dyspepsia.

GENTLEMEN.—I write to inform you that far years I had been troubled with Dyspepsia, and having tried other medicines which entirely failed, I at last found relief and cure in Burdock Blood Bitters, of which I took two bottles, the result being a perfect cure. Although only a young lad I had been troubled with dyspepsia for four or five years, but I can say now that B. B. B. does its work faithfully in the worst kind of dyspepsia, and has proved itself the only cure for me.

A PECULIAR CASE.

COVERED WITH PIMPLES—AN ANXIOUS MAN.

The Disease Disappears in Three Weeks by the Use of B. B. B.—Letter From Manitoba Fully Describing It.

DEAR SIR,—During the winter of 1892-93, I was covered with Pimples on the inside of my right leg between the knee and the ankle. As I never had anything of the kind before, I was anxious about it, and sought medical advice, but getting no relief from the doctor I tried a bottle of B. B. B., applying some of it to my leg as well as using it internally, and to my surprise, the nasty disease, whatever it was, disappeared within three weeks, and I am thankful to say that it has never re-appeared.

MURDER AT GLEICHEN.

FRANK SKYNER SHOT DOWN BY A BLACKFOOT INDIAN.

The Victim Was Government Issuer of Rations on the Reserve Near Gleichen—The Murderer Defied Arrest for Several Hours and Was Shot Down by the Mounted Police.

A shocking tragedy occurred near Gleichen, Dominion government issuer of rations on the Blackfoot Indian reserve, was shot down by one of the Blackfoot Indians named Ateahwan. There is no doubt the man was crazy with grief at the loss of his only child, which died recently and it is said that his intentions were to kill two or three more whites if he had found them at home.

The murderer has been shot dead and the battle is over. There are two corpses lying alongside of each other. The murderer was shot while in the bushes in hiding, but at the same time keeping up the firing.

Sergeant J. Marshall, with only three men, held the fort very well. It is hoped that the authorities at headquarters will see the necessity there is for an increase of the police at Gleichen to at least the number of twelve men. The murderer had appropriated to himself the rifle and ammunition which was in possession of the late Skynner after he had committed the deed.

MILL'S MOVING.

Why Massachusetts is Losing Them and the South Getting Them.

The Boston Globe says that from what can be picked up from the gossip around the court house it appears that the labor section of the report of the committee on mercantile affairs on their trip south, to find out why the mills of Massachusetts were to go south, is one upon which there is a wide difference of opinion among the various members. The report will say that at present there are no signs of a wholesale removal of Massachusetts mills to the south, as there are more spindles in Massachusetts to-day than in the past. But the committee claims to have found out that in spite of the apparent prosperity in Massachusetts among the cotton mills, a large amount of Massachusetts money has been sent south; that there is nothing in the charters of the new corporations formed under Massachusetts laws that will prevent them from organizing in Massachusetts and going south. Reference is also made to the fact that there is at present nothing to prevent the cotton corporations of Massachusetts from putting all the money they want to in Southern mills. The report will prove that cotton manufacturing in the south is not a new industry, but that since 1852 there has sprung up in that section conditions favorable to Massachusetts capitalists. In substantiation of this there will appear a long array of figures which will give some surprising results. The report will not speak hopefully of the scheme of establishing mills near cotton fields, or near coal mines, as cheapness will be equalized to the expense in another direction. The report will give the following distinct cases which are attracting the cotton industries of New England south: Nearness to cotton fields cheap tenements, cheap coal, mild climate, low taxes, abundant water power, and absence of restrictive labor laws.

On the labor question which is really the most important part of the report, is where the division of the committee is really the greatest as the portion of the report submitted advises national legislation in the hours of labor for women and children, and asks that the commonwealth take steps towards securing such legislation.

SMOOTH AND STYLISH.

Montreal Tailors Victimized by Captain English.

A nice stylish-looking young man calling himself Capt. English, private secretary to Senator Melvin, of British Columbia, has been cutting a dash in Montreal, for the last two weeks, while awaiting, as he said, the senator's arrival from the Pacific coast to prepare for the opening of parliament on April 17th. He got the Canadian Pacific railway officials into a tangle over the alleged loss of a portmanteau, which he claims contained important political documents belonging to the senator and enlisted the sympathies of several prominent citizens whose name he made use of to get into exclusive boarding houses and secure an extensive wardrobe from fashionable tailors. A suspicious party word Senator Melvin on the subject and received the following reply: "Have no private secretary in Montreal. Know no such person as English." The young man is not to be found here.

The Captain English mentioned in the above dispatch, is no doubt, the individual known in Winnipeg as plain Mr. English, who was sentenced to one year in jail for similar swindles on Winnipeggers. He at that time represented himself as a nephew of Sir Leonard Tilley. About two weeks ago he was liberated from jail and the A. M. C. A. furnished him with a railway ticket to Montreal.

DUPING THE DAGOS.

Italian Navvies are Badly Fooled by Employment Agents.

A large number of Italian navvies were stranded at Toronto, recently, on their way from Buffalo to Orillia, where they had been promised work on railway construction. A man named Dominic was under arrest on a charge of having duped the men. He and a confederate in Buffalo advertised for laborers to work on the railway and collected $1.75 from each of the 120. The confederate slipped from Hamilton while en route with the men and Pecci endeavored to keep them from Toronto, but the Italians suspected him and drawing dirks forced him into the waiting room in the Union station, where they kept him all night in the hope of making him disgorge, but his partner had the money. Some of the more infuriated of the victims attempted to lynch Pecci, but he got his back to the wall and with a drawn revolver kept them at bay.

Japan keeps up the Fight.

The London Times correspondent in Shimonoski sends this dispatch under the date of March 31: "Military activity in Japan has not abated. Everetsports of infantry and cavalry were hurried away recently before the armistice was proclaimed. The conditions arranged indicate the desire of China to save Peking at all costs. Shimonoski is filled with police to protect the Chinese envoys."

From Hong Kong the Times has this dispatch: "The Chinese are fleeing from Formosa to the mainland and Hong Kong. The Japanese are reported to be marching upon Tainan. The Chinese army in North Formosa is 80,000. Of this force 50,000 are splendid troops, well armed. The remainder are raw recruits, including even many beggars. Fighting is imminent. The foreigners are believed to be safe. Vigorous measures have been taken to resist the invaders. Boats have been placed across the Canton river and torpedoes have been placed in Swatow harbor."

A Shanghai dispatch says it is reported the principal conditions of peace include the independence of Korea, the payment of an indemnity of four hundred million yen, and the session to Japan of Formosa and Liao, including Port Arthur. The session of Lao Tung and Port Harthur is objected to by China.

CAPTURE OF JEFF DAVIS.

Brigadier-General Hamden Tells His Story of the Affair.

The visit of the Wisconsin state commission to Chattanooga, Tenn., to finally fix the position of their troops at the battle of Chickamauga in preparation for the location of monuments has brought to light the real facts as to the capture of Jefferson Davis. The head of the confederacy has always been represented as dressed when taken in women's clothes and the enormous hoop skirts then worn.

Brigadier-General Henry Hamden, then lieutenant-colonel of the first Wisconsin cavalry, is present as a member of the commission and denies the current stories as false in this particular. General Hamden, though now a white haired veteran of 75 grows indignant whenever he talks of what he terms the gross exaggerations of a very natural action by Mr. Davis. In relating the story he said: "May 6, 1865, I was specially detailed from Macon with 150 men of the first Wisconsin cavalry, the only command then armed with Spencer repeating carbines, by General Jas. H. Wilson to overtake and capture Jefferson Davis who was making his way in the path of Breckenridge and Benjamin South, via Florida, to Cuba. Our course described a circle so that we were over taken by Col. Pritchard who was sent out two days later with the first Michigan cavalry. The latter pushed ahead during the night as the news of the $100,000 reward offered May 6 had reached camp before his troops left, but we came upon them before the day of May 10. They fired upon us in the dark. We replied and drove them back and capturing a Michigan cavalry man first discovered we were fighting our own soldiers. Two of Colonel Pritchard's men were killed and a number wounded. Davis was encamped with a party of forty or fifty about six rods away from the skirmishing lines just over a little swamp and asleep at the time, but was awakened by the first firing, and dressing quickly stepped out into the door of his tent. As he did so a private of the first Michigan captured him, but did not know who he had captured till I approached. The first man I addressed was the Confederate Postmaster-General, Mr. Pagan, of Texas, since senator, who very courteously said: 'Gentlemen, you have taken the old general himself.' The soldier, who arrested him, said he had a shawl thrown over his shoulders when he first saw him. I reported this circumstance to General Wilson when I returned to Macon with the distinguished prisoner. The story was telegraphed from there, and in the confusion by misunderstanding the simple fact of wearing his wife's shawl, was magnified into the ridiculous story that Davis was disguised in woman's clothes. I have always branded it as utterly false and frequently at reunions have made myself unpopular by denying this yarn. I would not injure Mr. Davis if I could by allowing a false impression which I was unwillingly instrumental in conveying to prevail. The capture took place in a forest of pine trees near Irwinville, Irwin county, Ga., where Mr. Davis with his small party and picked two tents. The party consisted of Mr. Davis and Mr. Egan, Col. Harris, his private secretary, Mrs. Davis and her sister, teamsters, and a few unarmed soldiers. The larger fighting force had left him the day before, and Mr. Davis appeared very pettish, and blamed his wife in my presence for delaying them. She was on the way to her home in Mississippi, and Mr. Davis separation from Gen. Basil Dukes cavalry escort and the delay cost him his liberty. All the other prisoners, except the chief, were paroled. The fallen chieftain, as he then appeared was tall, but thin featured and nervous, but very dignified and stately, and would pass for a high-toned gentleman in any crowd while he was dressed modestly but unusually well for the time."

SHOT AT SANTIAGO.

An Intoxicated British Sailor Killed by Soldiers Without Provocation.

The British steamship Lauristina arrived at Baltimore recently from Santiago de Cuba. From her crew the story of the killing of John Lowe, one of their number, at Santiago, March 19, was learned in detail. The Lauristina was loaded with iron ore for Baltimore. Lowe, who belonged in Leeds, England, in company with other seamen went ashore on the night of the 18th and returned after midnight. Lowe, who was intoxicated, picked up a negro comrade on the dock and started to return to the town. Near the city is the Spanish fort, and all who pass there, night or day, must give the countersign or account for their presence. In his muddled condition Lowe attempted to pass without explaining. The report of a dozen rifles rang out on the night air, and Lowe fell dead shot through the heart. The negro tottered and fell wounded in the left hip, but recovering, begged for his life. He was recognized and allowed to return to town. Lowe's body was taken into the fort, and it is supposed, buried by the Spanish authorities, who refused to give it up when called upon by Capt. Davin. The negro boarded the Lauristina and told his story. The crew composed entirely of Englishmen, were angered over the affair and in loud tones denounced the Spaniards for such hasty and merciless action, saying that two good soldiers could have arrested the men without trouble, and that the murder was entirely unjustifiable. The Lauristina sailed two days later, the British consul having been made aware of all the facts in the case. The shooting may lead to complications between Cuba and Great Britain.

The body of Joseph Hayson, found dead in his cabin in Vancouver recently, was examined by the coroner's jury and a contused wound was found in the top of his head and there had been bleeding from the ear. A boating accident narrowly escaping fatal results occurred opposite the C. P. R. wharf, Vancouver, the other afternoon. Two young men, residents of that city had borrowed a large canoe, owned by the second officer on the Empress, and on returning turned too sharply and capsized. Both fortunately managed to secure a hold of the canoe and were ultimately rescued. The efforts of several by-standers to reach them with a life preserver failed, and two sailors picked them up from the steam launch, which was fortunately in readiness.

NAKED AND DEAD.

The Body of Joseph Hayson Found in His Cabin With Only One Boot On.

A visitor to the cabin of Joseph Hayson, at the corner of Hawks and Campbell avenue, Vancouver, recently, was surprised to find the dead body of the owner of the cabin lying on the floor, entirely naked, with the exception of a boot on one foot. There was a supposition that deceased might have succumbed to starvation but there was a parcel of bread on the table unopened. He has also been known to be subject to fits.

Deceased has only been a resident of Vancouver for a few years but is a pioneer in the province having been for many years employed as a miner at Nanaimo. He also kept a hotel there for some time but failed. He then by thrift accumulated $2,000 and came to Vancouver, which he invested in two lots where his cabin now stands. He was about 72 years of age and had latterly mortgaged his property for money for sustenance. He announced to a friend a short time ago that it was his intention to make application for admission to the Old Men's Home at Kamloops and to turn over his property to the government. Coroner McGuigan gave instructions for the summoning of a jury.

When the coroner's jury examined the body a contused wound was found on the back of the head and there had been bleeding from the ear. At the scene a lamp was discovered at the back end of the bed, where it is unlikely Hayson would have placed it. Fire had been started in the stove but it had gone out. Dishes were laid as if for a meal, which had never been partaken of. It was considered odd that the body should be covered up in bed with one boot on. Hayson was known to have been making arrangements to raise $500 on his property. A post mortem was ordered as the circumstances point strongly to foul play.

New Kootenay Railways.

Three new railways in West Kootenay, if not four, are likely to make good progress towards completion this year, even if they do not get into full operation, says the Pevestoke Mail. The Arrow Lake branch of the C. P. R. will without doubt be extended from Wigan to the Upper Lake. Connecting there with the steamer for Nakusp, and thence by the Nakusp and Slovan Railway to the Slovan mines. A regular shipment of ore can be made all winter without interruption. To avoid the risk of delay by ice on the lake, the new steamer to be built by the C. & K. N. Co. must be provided with an ice-breaker powerful enough to keep the channel open in all weathers. The C. P. R. and Navigation Company will be compelled to do this in order to hold the business which it is expected will be competed for by the Kaslo & Slovan railway, reported to be under contract for completion by the 1st of September. This line with its outlet on Kootenay lake will not only be a direct competing route for many of the mines now shipped via Nakusp, but will give transportation to many new mines so far not within the reach of railway or steamer. The prospect, therefore, in the Slovan is for an exceedingly active and even rushing summer, both as to railway building and mining development. The wisdom of the Legislature in withholding from the Red Mountain Railway Company an extension of its charter, as prayed for, will result in the immediate construction of the road, and perhaps a second line from Columbia at Trail to the mines will be built by the C. P. R. It is entirely safe to say that had the extension been granted, not even one road would have been built this year. The mine owners of Trail Creek can but be gratified that instead of road at all, as might have been the case if the charter had been extended, they will now have one at least one if not two railways entering their camp before the end of 1895.

Improving the Rapids.

The work of improving the Kootenay rapids, for the benefit of steamer navigation which has been going forward under the direction of F. C. Gamble, Dominion Government engineer, for some time, has now been practically finished. It consisted of about 1,000 feet of crib-work with riprap on the outside to protect it from the wash of high water. The work done this winter was in connecting previous cribs by new work and in extensions, and has been going on nearly four months. The cribs are located on the edge of deep water to prevent steamers from drifting on the bar at places where the rapids are strong. If any further improvement is projected, it will doubtless be a deepening of the channel where the rocks or the hard clay of the river bed need blasting out for the advantage of navigation in low water.

Patriot Information.

In an interview the other night, Col. Figuerado, leader of the Cuban patriots in Tampa, Fla., and the recognized head of the movement in that section, said: "The last news I have from Cuba is that Gen. Maceo has landed a large force of men on the island, together with 3,000 rifles, ammunition and army stores. But at what point the landing was effected I am not informed. He has a large force, with thirty seven officers, and his men are well drilled and disciplined. Gen. Maceo captured a convoy taking several hundred men prisoners, besides securing 100 mules and a large lot of munitions of war. These are the latest facts. I know there are all sorts of rumors flying, but what I have stated are the simple facts as they exist according to our best information."

Standard Oil Case.

A state suit has been brought in the district court of Texas against the Waters-Pierce Oil Co., a member of the Standard Oil Trust, asking that the permit authorizing the company to do business in Texas be revoked. The proceedings were brought under the Texas anti-trust law, which provides a fine of $50 per day for each day that the company has violated this law for six years, and the total penalty aggregates over $100,000. The state asks for judgment in that amount with costs. In the suit the same allegations are made which appeared in the criminal indictments against J. D. Rockefeller and other Standard Oil magnates.

THE POSE WAS FATAL.

A Beautiful Cincinnati Woman Dies While Standing Before a Mirror.

Annie Shannon, a young married woman living at 45 Baum street, Cincinnati, was found dead standing in front of the dresser in her bedroom the other morning. From the appearance of the body she had evidently been posing before the mirror when death overtook her. She was leaning on the dresser and her head was turned coquettishly to one side. Her eyes were wide open, and were staring full at the mirror. The woman was nude. The body was discovered by a young girl who called at Mrs. Shannon's room. Her knock was answered by Mrs. Shannon, as she thought, preparing her toilet. She spoke pleasantly but was surprised at not receiving a reply. She walked over to the mirror and laid her hand on the woman, and then it was that she discovered that she was dead. She gave the alarm and in a short time the neighborhood was aroused. Coroner Haerz was hastily summoned, and the body was not disturbed until his arrival. A score of people crowded into the room gazing in awestruck silence at the silent figure in front of the mirror. Dr. Haerz pronounced the case one of the most remarkable on record. He says that the woman had been dead several hours. How it happened that she did not fall to the floor is what is most surprising. The doctor is of the opinion that the woman was posing before the mirror when she was stricken with death. She was of a prepossessing face and figure.

The Effect of Intense Cold Upon the Mind.

Extreme cold, as is well known, exerts a numbing influence upon the mental faculties. Almost every one who has been exposed for a longer or shorter period, to a very low temperature has noted a diminution in will power, and often a temporary weakening of the memory. Perhaps the largest scale upon which this action has ever been studied was during the retreat of the French from Moscow. The troops suffered extremely from hunger, fatigue and cold—from the latter perhaps most of all. A German physician who accompanied a detachment of his countrymen has left an interesting account of their trials during this retreat. From an abstract of this paper by Dr. Rose, in the New Yorker Medicinische Monatschrift, we find that of the earliest symptoms referable to the cold was a loss of memory. This was noted in the strong as well as those who were already suffering from the effects of the hardships to which they had been exposed. With the first appearance of moderately low temperature (about five degrees above zero Fahrenheit), many of the soldiers were found to have forgotten the names of the most ordinary things about them, as well as those of the articles of food, for the want of which they were perishing. Many forgot their own names and those of their comrades. Others showed more pronounced symptoms of mental disturbance, and not a few incurably insane, the type of their insanity resembling very closely senile dementia. The cold was probably not alone responsible for these effects, for a zero temperature is rather stimulating than paralyzing in its action upon the well-fed and the healthy. These men were half-starved, poorly clad, worn out with long marching, many already weakened by dysentery and other diseases, and all mentally depressed, as an army in defeat always is. It needed, therefore, no very unusual degree of cold to produce the psychic effects observed under other circumstances only as a consequence of exposure to an extreme low temperature.—Medical Record.

Having a Good Time in Jail—The Japanese Laborers Getting Nerve.

A letter has been received at Indianapolis from Q. C. Wharton, an Indianapolis man, who is a member of the national guards, doing duty over ex-Queen Liliuokalani, at Honolulu. Wharton, among other things, says: "The ex-queen is a prisoner on stairs over our barracks and we are always on guard over her. She is allowed a woman to attend her all the time, and as the natives are all musicians, they all seem to enjoy themselves upstairs. The time is mostly passed in singing and dancing. This is how the ex-queen is expected to pass the next five years, which is her time of sentence." Wharton says the islands are at present a poor place for capital seeking investment as the opinion is general that any other rebellion may break out at any time. In this event, Wharton says the Japanese will take a hand. The Japanese the letter continues, are by far the most numerous there and are getting very bold over their victories over the Chinese. The Hawaiian government, could not hold out against any other nation 24 hours. As long as they have no one to contend with but the natives, however, they are not afraid.

The New Ballot.

By an order-in-council passed a few days ago the act of parliament providing for the new Derocor ballot is to be brought into force immediately. The new ballot will leave little opportunity, if any, for errors such as frequently spoil votes. It will be black except the blank space opposite the name of each candidate, on which the voter is to place his decisive cross.

It's a pretty hard job sometimes for a man to be a "good fellow" and a good father and husband at the same time.

Local and General

—Hot X Buns!
—Look out for the nuisance inspector.

—Seeding is now in full swing all over the district.

—Dr. Bushe, of Grenfell, was in town on Wednesday.

—Staff Sergt. Fyffe returned to his duties from Regina on Thursday night.

—Mr. McKay, Experimental Farm, Indian Head, was in town on Monday.

—Dr. Cowan, dentist, Regina, arrived in town by Wednesday night's train.

—Hens have been busy of late endeavoring to supply the demand for Easter eggs.

—Staff Sergt. De Barres left for Grenfell on Friday night to take charge of that post.

—Rev. Mr. Macallister called to see us this week while en route to his new station at Buffalo Lake.

—A letter on "Fallacy of Early Rising" will appear in our next issue, being crowded out this week.

—Mr. John Macallister, who has been attending Manitoba college, Winnipeg, is in town renewing acquaintances.

—Our old friend Robt. May, who is on his way to the coast, stopped over on Wednesday last for a few days, renewing acquaintances.

—The interior of the Pro-Cathedral has been redecorated by Mr. Hollingshead, and presents quite an improved appearance.

—Services will be held in the Pro-Cathedral on Easter Sunday at 8 a.m., 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. The usual services will also be held on Good Friday.

—The weather has had a disturbed appearance since Tuesday and culminated in a snowstorm on Wednesday morning, which will do an immensity of good.

—The neighborhood of the C.P.R. station has presented quite a busy scene for the last few days, owing to the number of farmers in town for their seed grain.

—Stovel's Pocket Directory for April is to hand. This useful little publication is of inestimable value to strangers in Winnipeg, Man., or the Territories. It would be impossible for us to enumerate the list of information it contains. Buy one and see for yourself. Five cents each.

—We are sorry to have to record the death of Mrs. D. H. Starr, of Starr's Point, on Wednesday, 10th inst. Mrs. Starr had been ailing for some time. All that a loving husband and sons could do for her were unavailing. The bereaved husband and sons have our sincere sympathy, and we have no doubt this feeling is shared in by the community.

—A well attended meeting of the agricultural society was held on Saturday last to discuss the creamery question, and we are happy to be able to state that it has been satisfactorily settled. Mr. Caswell's offer to collect the cream and make it into butter, guaranteeing a first-class article, for four cents per pound being accepted, and a committee of farmers appointed to carry out the necessary work. This is one of the wisest courses that has ever been taken in hand by the farmers, and without doubt will prove a good success, notwithstanding the few disappointed pessimists in our midst.

—Premier Haultain, accompanied by his private secretary, arrived in town on Thursday night and left for Fort Qu'Appelle on Friday morning, returning on Sunday left for Regina.

NOTES BY THE WAY.

"There's a chiel among ye takin' notes. An' fash he'll beent' 'em."

There is a right and a wrong way of doing most things, even to the simple act of drinking a cup of milk. When gulped down, as it too frequently is, the milk becomes a solid lump of curd in the stomach, and the gastric juice cannot act freely upon it, when indigestion, or an unpleasant symptom of some sort, follows, the person so affected coming to the conclusion that the lactic juice of the female bovine creature does not agree with him. Let him, however, give it another and a fair chance. This time, by drinking slowly, taking a couple of minutes or so over the operation, the milk will then, although turned into a curd, be separated, and the gastric juice will thereby be enabled to permeate the whole, and thus to perform its proper function.

A runaway horse with a buck-board attached are not pleasant things to dash into a bevy of children, but this might have happened on the afternoon of Monday last but for the timely interference of Mr. B. Harvey, who, with the activity of the antelope, and considerable courage, ran after, sprang at and captured the fiery steed, thus cutting short his wild career.

What a great deal there is in the various expressions of the human face. It has been aptly said that the face is the index to the mind. There is much in the face that is beaming. There is much in the face that is sad. There is much in the face that is screaming. There is much in the face of a fool. There is much in the face of a liar. There is much in the face of a hypocrite. There is much in the face of a knave. There is much in the face of a villain. There is much in the face of a scoundrel. There is much in the face of a rascal. There is much in the face of a scoundrel. There is much in the face of a rascal.

More snow has come, and so much the better. 'Twill make all the land just a little bit wetter. But wetter or no, in the grain it must go. And we'll hope for a bountiful harvest. To grow and grumble at the country is vain. For 'tis just what 'twas intended to be. And when long droughts take the place of the rain. We still hope for a bountiful harvest. Mayhap 'twill be found, as the years come and go. That deep plowing, manuring, and rolling also are little matters just now unconsidered. And yet, we hope for a bountiful harvest. Let us treat Mother Earth in shape fair and square. And each time she'll respond to considerate care. And in no niggardly fashion you'll find. For she'll laugh with a bountiful harvest.

Mr. Stewart Mitchell has sold his fine two-year-old, dark bay, Clydesdale stallion, "Young Wallace," to Messrs. Robinson and Price, "Young Wallace" is the progeny of "Minnie," one of Mr. S. Mitchell's well known Clydesdale mares, and "Braehed." This highly promising young stallion, which has become the property of Messrs. Robinson and Price, took first prize for year-olds at both the Qu'Appelle and Indian Head agricultural shows. It is certainly a pleasing reflection to know that such a really good stamp of horse has not been sold to go out of the country, as we understand "Young Wallace" is to be located on Rand P's ranch, which is situated north of the Fort.

Edgeley Echoes.

The council of our municipality have made good use of some of the superfluous wealth which they have lately found to be at their command, in buying the oats for the farmers. We hope that any person receiving such seed, providing they have the means to do so, will refund at the appointed time without delay, in order that it may not give the kickers any show to kick again.

Mr. McInnis, in his Regina Standard of March 28 (though it is some time ago), filled up his columns with Mr. Davin's defects. He is careful to announce the non-appearance of Mr. Davin at various meetings. One would imagine from the accounts that Mr. Davin was afraid to face either the honorable editor or Mr. Hitchcock; but anyone knowing Mr. Davin's eloquence and daring will know that such is not the case. Probably Mr. Davin may be a trifle choice in his company when in public, and we do not wonder at it at all.

Lots of ducks about now. Any person possessing tame ones should have them branded before the breeding season.

Oh, rejoice all ye vanquished in the municipal fight!

Ye are free from all the troubles that have been brought to light;

Ye have the glorious liberty of walking down the street

Without fear of being accosted by everyone you meet;

Ye are not held responsible for other persons' notes,

Nor risk the chance of friendship in dividing out seed oats;

Ye may kick among the kickers if there's any cause to kick,

But don't kick without a reason for our council's pretty sick.

Oh, then, let us cannot envy, yet they stick to it like glue,

And conduct their arduous duties as if they really knew

That they are the only worthies who could possibly control

Business and money matters that were in such a hole,

Ye are free from midnight sittings, ye will get your share of sleep.

While the tired, weary seven ponder o'er matters deep;

Oh, pay for all the voters who made ye stay at home,

When, like the willing lambkin, ye stayed afar to roam!

Proclaim aloud your gratitude to electors far and wide,

For the sensible decision at the poll they did decide!

Look at the brave old veteran, who ten years has fought the fight,

Who in the bygone councils always strived to do the right;

God be thanked for such a leader as our worthy, honest representative!

Long may he guard our interests—that post he never leave—

It's Henley here, it's Henley there, it's Henley o'er the way!

It's creamery, it's wheat, it's oats, all thro' the living day!

Yes, South Qu'Appelle, ye were full wise in choosing out such men

To manipulate your interests—ye'll know how to choose again—

They're the men to represent us, they are the men of tact,

Though scarce the discontented they get some strong abuse;

Oh, then beware, ye vanquished, if again ye should aspire!

Public affairs are not all roses—ye have got to stand the fire

Of the tongues of malcontents, of malice and of spite—

Just call to mind these items should again you make a fight.
